MEXICO.

The following Declaration of Independence of the roposed Republic of the Sierra Madre appears have been originally written in English, from which it was translated by the N. O. Patria. It has now undergone a second translation.

Unanimous declaration of the Seven Northern States of the Sierra Madre of Mexico:

When, in the course of human events, it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bonds which have connected them with another, and to assume among the powers of the earth the separate and equal station to which the laws of nature and of nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation.

The history of the present and past governments of Mexico is a history of repeated injuries and usurpations, all having in direct object the establishment of an absolute tyranny over these States. To prove this, let facts be submitted to a candid world.

They have have according to with political

First.—They have harrassed us with politica changes, which, up to the present time, have been nothing else but a continued oppression through new agents (manos.) We declare ourselves free.

Second.—They have ground us down by taxation, exacted solely to perpetuate the power of the usurpers of the liberty of the people. We declare ourselves free.

Third.—They have persecuted us with standing armies, kept up to oppress and annihilate the in-dustry of all, except that of our oppressors. We dustry of all, except that of our oppressors. We declare ourselves free.

Fourth.—They have acted so that our beloved religion, constantly threatened by bayonets, has been trammelled in its action of benevolence and public instruction. We declare ourselves free.

Fifth.—They have so managed that the people in the midst of their vast territory are denied the right of individual property. We declare ourselves free.

Sixth.—They have violated the promises made to our children, who, in anxiety, vainly claim from their rulers the right of education. We declare ourselves free.

Seventh.—They have so misgoverned, that our gray-headed parents gradually descend to the temb, like brute beasts, without honor and without hope. We declare ourselves free.

Eighth .- They have so arranged that whilst indigence and misery are seen every where, they go clad in purple and gold. We declare ourselves free.
Ninth.—They have adhered to the national declaration that there shall be no slavery on the soil whilst domestic servitude is an odious, a horrible and a cruel system, and it exists without notice and without reprobation. We declare ourselves and without reprobation. We declare ourselves free.

We, therefore, the public of these seven Northern States of the Sierra Madre of Mexico, appealing to the Supreme Judge of the world for the rectitude of our intentions, solemnly publish and declare that "these United States are free and independent;" that they are absolved from all allegiance to the Mexican Government, and that all connexion which has ceased, is, and ought to be, totally dissolved. Consequently, as free and independent States, they have full power to levy war, contract alliances, establish commerce, and to do all other acts and things which free and independent States may of right do. And for the support of this declaration, with a firm reliance on Divine Providence, we, the people, mutually pledge to each other our lives, our fortunes, and our sacred honor.

Our swords are drawn! The scabbards are

Our swords are drawn! The scabbards are thrown away!
Now, then, death to tyrants!
Matamoros, Mexico, June 16, 1849.

The movement just now is significant, especially ference with California. The boundaries of the contemplated Re Sierra Madre are the Rio Grande on the North, the Sierra Madre chain of mountains on the west and south, and the Gulf of Mexico on the east, in-

The bills of the Adelphi Theatre contained the mysterious announcement that "a most unwarrantable intrusion would be committed by Mr. Wright to the annoyance of Mr. Paul Bedford." This statement was, in fact, the title of a farce, in which Mr. Bedford acts a portly old gentleman, determined to have a day of quiet and enjoyment to himself, and Mr. Wright appears as an intruder, who interrupts his breakfast arrangements, tells a quantity of stuff he does not want to hear, and by seeming accident breaks divers articles of furniture.

Law of International Coffright.—In the court of exchequer, on Tuesday, Chief Baron Pollock pronounced judgment in the case of Boosey v. Parday. The plaintiff had taken from one Ricordi an assignment of the opera of Sonnambula, which the composer Bellini had assigned to Ricordi. The defendant afterwards published some of the airs out of it in London. The main question was, whether the plaintiff acquired any copyright, having a title by assignment from a foreigner. The court held that he did not. The intention of the statute was not to protect foreigners. They, therefore. was not to protect foreigners. They, therefore, had no copyright in this country; and, of course, could not assign what they had not. The learned judge intimated that the decision was at variance with others, and that the question would probably be brought before the House of Lords.

Constabiliary in Ireland.—A return, presented pursuant to the act 6th William IV., cap. 13, shows that the total number of county inspectors of constabiliary employed in Ireland on the 1st day of January, 1849, amounted to 35, the number of sub-inspectors to 247, the number of head constables to 332, the number of constables to 1,714, the number of "acting" constables to 381, and the number of deputy constables to 9,503; making a total of all ranks of 12,212. The number of horses was 344. The total expenditure for the maintenance of this force amounted to 562,506*l.* for the year ended the 31st of December, 1848, of which the proportion borne on the consolidated fund was 525,386*l.*, and the amount borne by counties, cities, and towns, 37,120*l.*

The present Charge of the United States to Chili, correspondent of the Savannah Republican says, is about to return on account of private difficulties of a personal nature: It seems that Mr. Barton married a Catholic lady in Chili. The Archbishop took it upon himself to inform the lady that she was not living in lawful inform the lady that she was not living in lawful wedl-ck, because she was not married according to the rites of the Catholic church, the marriage having been solemnized by the chaplain of one of our upen-of-war. Mr. Barton complained of this impertinence to the Chilian Government, and persisted that proceedings be instituted against the Archbishop. They replied that they had nothing to do with the matter. On account of this misunderstanding, Mr. Barton will soon return.

The Tides in the German Ocean .- A striking ex-The Tides in the German Ocean.—A striking example occurs to us of the happy connexion of theory with observation, in the prediction that there must exist a spot in the German Ocean—the central point of an area of rotation, produced by the meeting and mutual action of two opposite tides—where no rise or fall of the tide whatever could occur; a prediction actually verified by Capt. Hewett in 1839, without any prior knowledge that such a point had been supposed to exist. This is one among the many triumphs of like kind achieved by modern science.—Artizan.

Annexation of Canada.—The Montreal Herald, of Friday, concludes a long article on this subject with the expression of its belief "that Great Britain will not oppose annexation"

It is said that the Queen has written a letter to Sir Robert Peel, congratulating him on the successful debut of his son. The old gentleman and the young one kept the secret, but mamma, with natural pride, let it out.

Garibaldi, the Roman commander, is described as a most picturesque warrior, the ideal of a bri-gand—eminently handsome, with a red blouse, broad belt full of pistols, wide-brimmed hat, and The suspension bridge at Pesth, it is said, has been destroyed by the Austrians, in order to cover their retreat before the Hungarians; the bridge of boats is also said to have been burnt for the same

During the last twelve months there have been seized, at Manchester, 22,000 lbs. w sound meat, which would most probably have been otherwise sold to the public for food. According to letters from Cyprus, dated on the 27th of April, the greatest distress prevailed in that island in consequence of the ravages committed by flights of locusts, which had wasted the crops. The Court of Common Pleas has pronounced the important decision that mortgages to building societies are exempt from stamp duty under the act of Parliament regulating them. A recent imperial ukase, which imposes a duty of ten copecks a pound on printed books imported into Russia, provides that double duties shall be

Lord Stanley has paid the passage money of a great number of his poor Irish tenantry, provided them with clothes, given a small sum of money to each, and sent them off to America.

Don Miguel has taken up his abode at Bexhill, in the neighborhood of St. Leonard, where Louis Philippe is his near neighbor. He is attended by three domestic servants only. A rich silver mine, in which some gold is also found, has been discovered in the department of the Herault, France.

Some English gentlemen have taken measures for the establishment of horse races at Alexandria, under the patronage of Said Pacha. Four United States soldiers were brought before Pour United States solders were brought before the court yesterday morning on a petition of Dr. Porter, of the U. S. Army, alleging their insanity, and praying that they be sent to the Lunatic Asy-lum at Jackson, La. Two of the soldiers were, on evidence adduced, ordered by the court to be sent to the Asylum at Jackson, and the other two discharged.

One of the lunatics represented himself to be the son of Gen. Geo. Washington, and reprimanded the court severely, in high sounding words, and in no unmeasured terms, for its interference in the case. He was immediately taken care of by the sheriff.—N. O. Picayune, June 26. charged.

The model Postmaster .- Wm. H. Chandler, esq. The model Postmoster.—Wm. H. Chandler, esq., editor of the Evansville Journal, has been appointed postmaster at that place. Mr. C. says in a card: "I will open, distribute, and deliver the mails no matter at what hour of the night they may arrive, and give those who desire it an opportunity to answer their letters by return mail—will keep the office open on Sunday at least four hours, and longer if requested—will procure a more central office as soon as it can be done, and in fact do all and more than any reasonable man would ask, and if I fail to give satisfaction will resign."

Curious.—On Saturday, the 23d ult., a heavy thunder storm passed over Orono, (Me.,) says a correspondent of the Tribune, and at its close a Beaufort, who presided, gave: "The Drury Lane Theatre and the legitimate drama, and success to Mr. Anderson, the new lessee;" to which Mr. Anderson responded. Mr. Stammers has since written to the papers, denying that Mr. Anderson is the man, but that he (Mr. Stammers) has taken the theatre, and will open it for operas next Christmas. Under these circumstances we are inclined to sing with Wilhelmina, "Which, which is the man?"

It is said that Gov. FRENCH, of Illinois, has de-
